

SIMS and NAVIGANT announce strategic alliance at Arab Health Congress 2017 in Dubai, UAE.

Sidani Innovative Management Services (SIMS) and Navigant (www.navigant.com) today celebrated their strategic alliance during a luncheon held at the Arab Health Congress held on January 28-February 2, 2017 at the Dubai International Convention & Exhibition Center in the UAE. Arab Health Congress is the largest gathering of healthcare and trade professionals in the MENA region. This year it was attended by 4,400 of the world's leading healthcare companies from over 70 countries.

The luncheon, co-sponsored by SIMS and Navigant, was attended by representatives from the Dubai Health Authority, Regional Insurance Companies, Healthcare Providers, and Medical Insurance Claims Third Party Administrators and Service Providers.

Special Guests included experts in the field of Healthcare Quality, Revenue Cycle Management & Analytics, and Health Insurance Management.

Background of Special Guests:

Rulon Stacey, PhD (Healthcare Quality)

Rulon is a managing director in Navigant's healthcare practice. As a healthcare leader, Dr. Stacey brings a future-focused, leadership-driven approach to clients, as well as a unique understanding of provider issues, leadership and governance challenges and strategy alternatives. He provides expertise in the design and development of initiatives that support cultural and organizational changes needed for ongoing success as health systems evolve from fee-for-service to value-based environment. Dr. Stacey led a hospital network to win the Malcolm Baldrige Quality Award (MBQA) in the United States and now is chairman of the MBQA.

Michael von Grey (Revenue Cycle, Analytics)

Michael has 27 years of experience in the healthcare services industry. He has overall governance responsibility for Navigant's 2,000-person offshore healthcare revenue cycle outsourcing operations, along with firm-wide leadership of Navigant's Central Analytics practice (including Big Data, Machine Learning and Predictive Analytics functions.) He has been active in the UAE market since 2008. Michael joined Navigant in 2015, following the acquisition of RevenueMed, a company which he founded and where he served as chairman and CEO. Prior to RevenueMed, served continuous CEO positions in healthcare services firms since 1989, with deep skill in enterprise-building, instilling corporate culture, ambitious deployment of technology, rigorous process management and strategic marketing.
